Charles Bukowski, A BUKOWSKI SAMPLER, edited by Doug Blazek, with introductions by Blazek, Darrell Kerr, Wm. Wantling, Al Purdy, Rich Manglesdorff, Steve Richmond, and Walter Lowenfels.....$1.50

*"Bukowski treads the razor's edge of poetry between the ugliness of life and the rawness of his emotions.
Like Celine, like Artaud, he can be at once and the same time utterly raw and genuinely poetic. Few of us agree with all he says. Yet he lives his poetry and he writes of life as it comes to him. An excellent formula for living in our Time. And Charles Bukowski is a man of our Time."*
